Premium Land appointed Chinese Academy of Sciences Consultant

(28 October 2009, Hong Kong) Premium Land Limited (“Premium Land” or the “Group”; SEHK: 164) (name to be changed to “China Gamma Group Limited”) is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Lu Dunzhu as Consultant. He is involved in the Group’s development in advanced gamma ray technologies for cold pasteurization of food and sterilization of medical products.

Mr. Lu started his research in Chinese Academy of Sciences in the 1950’s. He has been engaged in gamma ray technology and application for over 50 years and received numerous awards. Mr. Lu is the pioneer in the industry and has made considerable contributions to the industry development. He has been appointed director or expert by various national authoritative associations in applied gamma ray industry, including China Isotope & Radiation Association and China Radiation Processing Committee.

Mr. Lu will be responsible for formulating stringent quality control and safety measures, analysis in the Government policy of gamma ray technology development, R&D in applications of gamma technology, implementing development strategies, marketing as well as building efficient management team.

Mr. Gregory Ho, the Executive Director of Premium Land said, “It is our pleasure to welcome Mr. Lu to be our Consultant. Chinese Academy of Sciences is the top academic institution in science and technology in China as well as natural science and hi-tech R&D centre. Mr. Lu has a wealth of experience in gamma ray technology and application. Besides supervising the R&D in gamma ray technology, he has established a gamma technology company under Chinese Academy of Sciences. His joining can further enhance our capability and management of the new business and technology. The Group strives to be the leader in the industry.”

On 13 September 2009, Premium Land announced that it entered into an agreement to acquire 80% stake of a company principally engaged in cold pasteurization of food and sterilization of medical products utilizing advanced gamma ray technologies in Zibo City, Shandong Province. In addition, the resolution of proposed name change to “China Gamma Group Limited” was passed at the SGM on 19 October. That will reflect its future business development more appropriately.

This press release is issued by PR Concepts Asia Limited for and on behalf of Premium Land Limited.
